

April 10, 2025

Snowfall Warning – Canada

Affected Areas

Northern Quebec, Labrador, Northwest Territories, parts of Nunavut

Duration

April 10th - 13th, 2025

Hazard Types

Flash Flood

Hazard Summary

A significant snowfall event is affecting various parts of Canada, with the heaviest accumulations observed in northern Quebec, Labrador, and around the eastern shores of Hudson Bay. These regions are experiencing intense snow activity, as indicated by the deep red zones on the map. Moderate to heavy snowfall is also visible across the Northwest Territories, parts of Nunavut, and areas bordering Alaska and Yukon.