

Weather Advisory (May 16th to 21st, 2025)

National Emergency Operation Centre – National Disaster Management Authority

16th May

17th May

18th May

Mostly hot and dry weather is expected to prevail across the country. However, a western weather system is anticipated from 18th to 19th May, 2025, which will impact the northern areas of the country.

Punjab:

Hot and dry weather is expected to persist throughout the week. However, isolated rain and thunderstorms are likely in the Potohar region including Islamabad, Rawalpindi, Attock, Chakwal, Jhelum and upper Punjab including Sahiwal, Lahore, Gujranwala, Sargodha, Faisalabad, Gujar Khan and surrounding areas, from 18th to 19th May.

Balochistan:

Mainly hot and dry weather is expected to prevail.

Sindh:

Hot and dry weather is expected to prevail.

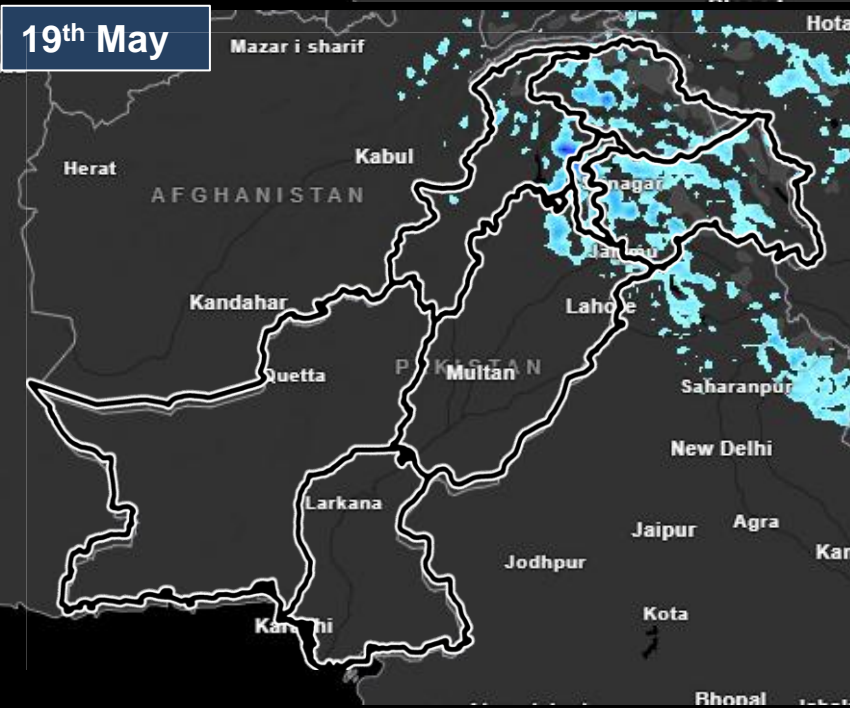

KP:

Hot and dry weather is expected throughout the week. However, rain and thunderstorms are likely in the northern parts, including Chitral, Dir, Swat, and parts of the Hazara Division, from 18th to 19th May.

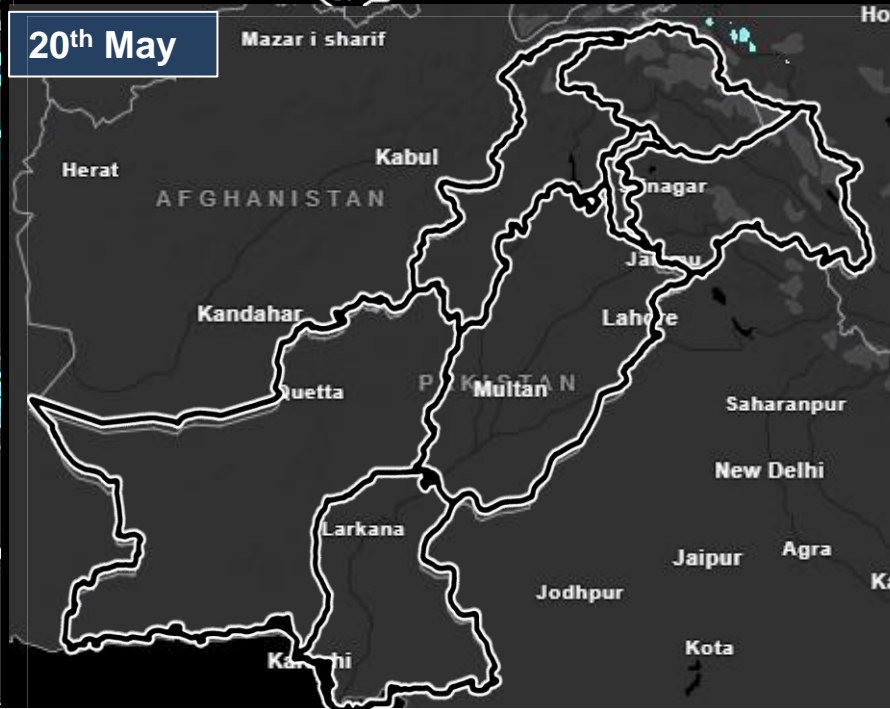

GB & AJK:

Dry weather is expected during the week. However, cloudy weather with isolated rain, windstorms, and thunderstorms is expected at different locations from 18th to 19th May.

19th May

20th May

21th May

