Weekly Weather Watch (10th November to 15th November, 2026)

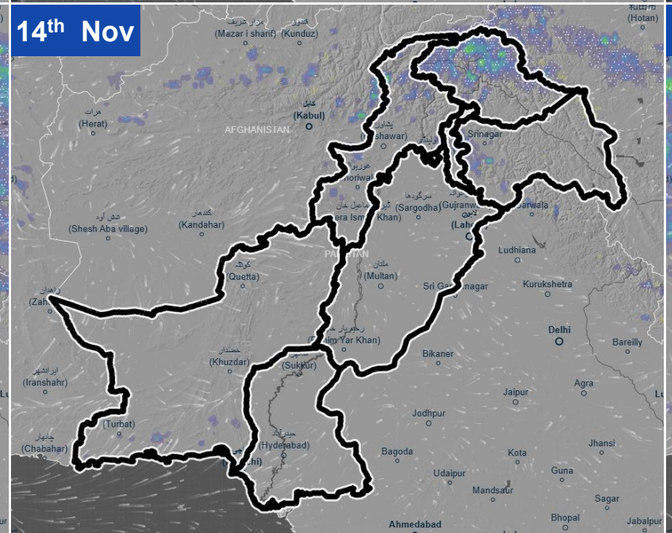

National Emergency Operation Centre – National Disaster Management Authority

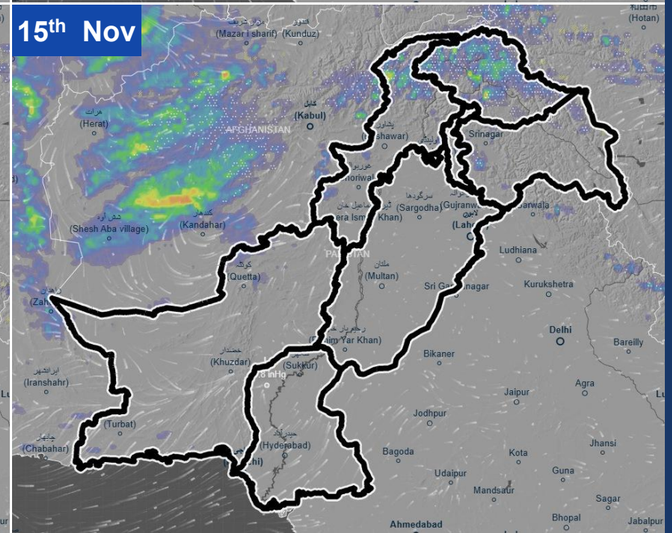

Punjab & ICT:

The ICT region & the Punjab province is expected to experience isolated rainfall, thunderstorm, and windstorm in districts including Rawalpindi, Murree, Attock, Chakwal, Jhelum, Mandi Bahauddin, and surrounding areas. Overall temperatures shall be eased with cool nights.

Balochistan:

The province is expected to experience isolated rainfall, thunderstorm, and windstorm in districts including Zhob, Musakhel, Ziarat, Quetta, Harnai, Kohlu, Sibi, Khuzdar, and surrounding areas. Snowfall is expected over high-altitude regions. Overall temperatures shall be eased with cool nights.

Sindh:

The province is expected to remain mainly hot and dry.

KP:

The province is expected to experience isolated rainfall, thunderstorm, and windstorm in districts including Chitral, Dir, Mingora, Batkhela, Abbottabad, Haripur, Mansehra, Swabi, Peshawar, Mardan, Landi Kotal, Kohat, Hangu, Sadda, Swat, Kohistan, Malakand, Bajaur, Shangla, Battagram, Buner, Bannu, D.I. Khan, Bajaur, Mohmand, Khyber, Waziristan, Orakzai, Parachinar, Kurram and surrounding areas. Snowfall is expected over high-altitude regions. Overall temperatures shall be eased with cool nights.

GB & AJK:

The province is expected to experience widespread rainfall, thunderstorm, and windstorm in districts including Khunjerab, Hunza, Gupis, Gahkuch, Gilgit, Bunji, Ghizer, Diamer, Astore, Chilas, Dassu, Skardu, Muzaffarabad, Neelum Valley, Garhi Doppatta, Bagh, Kotli, Dadiyal, Forward Kahuta, Rawalakot, Khui Ratta, Poonch, Bhimber, Mirpur, and surrounding areas. Snowfall is expected over high-altitude regions. Overall temperatures shall be eased with cool nights.